The Advertiser
FOL 1896.

The December Session of the 49th Congress is about to close, but a large volume of important legislation has been passed. The most prominent among these is the Tariff Bill, which contains several important features. The duties on a number of importations have been reduced, and new duties have been placed on several others. The bill also contains provisions for the regulation of railroads and the improvement of the internal revenue system.

The bill on railroads is of especial interest, as it provides for the construction of several important lines. The Occidental Railroad, for instance, will extend from the Mississippi to the Pacific Ocean. At its completion it will be the longest line in the United States.

The bill also provides for the extension of the internal reveu system, which is now in a state of partial collapse. The provisions of the bill will go far to restore confidence in the system, and to enable it to perform its duties more efficiently.

The bill on railroads, while of great importance, is not the only important feature of the Tariff Bill. The provisions on the internal revenue system are equally significant. The bill provides for a system of taxation that is both fair and procedural. It places a tax on all incomes over a certain amount and excludes all others from taxation. The tax is levied in a manner that is both equitable and efficient.

The bill also contains provisions for the regulation of railroads and the improvement of the internal revenue system.
These provisions are of great importance, and will go far to solve the problems of these two fields.

The December Session of the 49th Congress is about to close,
but a large volume of important legislation has been passed.

Milling Notes.

The Georgia Railroad executives have recently decided on some difficult business. They have been studying the possibility of building a railroad to Dahlonega, and have found that the project is feasible. The railroad would connect Dahlonega with the rest of the state. The Georgia Railroad has been considering the project for some time, and now they have decided to proceed with the construction. The project has been met with mixed reactions from the community, but the company is confident that the railroad will be successful.

Milling Notes.

The men at the Georgia Cotton Mills have been working hard to increase their production. They have been experimenting with new techniques and machinery to improve efficiency and productivity. The company has invested heavily in new equipment and is looking for ways to further reduce costs. The men at the mill are dedicated to their work and are committed to producing high-quality cotton goods.

The Great South American Nervine and Stomach Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.

It is pleasant to the taste in the Southern Market. It is Seed and Barren of the South.

This wonderful South American Nervine has only recently been introduced in the Southern Market, but it has already created a sensation. It is the result of years of research and experimentation in the South American Continent, where it has been cultivated for centuries. Its properties are incomparable, and its effects are instantaneous.

This cure is not only a remedy for stomach and liver ailments, but it also provides relief from nervousness, depression, and other mental and physical distresses.

The first item is the most difficult of all. This is the third, we have repeatedly urged the Commissioner of Agriculture to press for the introduction of this South American Nervine and Stomach Liver Cure.

The fourth, if carried out, would result in a complete fertilizer. Where lime is applied, amounts to fully 50 per cent. The addition to the lime is cheering; indeed, the general gloom this is cheering; indeed, the general gloom this is cheering.

The Mary Hardy died along the New River last spring. Mary Hardy came to town by the railroad and the railroad was the only way she could get there. She asked for a place to sleep and the conductor gave her a bed in the train. She stayed up all night talking to the conductor and then got off the train at the next station.

RHEUMATIC REMEDY

KINDRED FOR "SILICUM ROSA"

REPEATED FROM THE "FREE PRESS" OF SPARKS, MONT., APRIL 14, 1887.

ATLANTA, March 1, 1887.

Gentlemen:

Your favor of the 29th February, touching a condition of the heart, which you have become aware of within the last year, and which you desire to have ascertained if possible, is now under the observation of Dr. Hopps, of this city. He advises you to confine yourself to a moderate diet, and to avoid all excitement and bodily exertion, and to have as little contact with persons whose habits are dissipated as possible.

J. E. MURPHY

has returned from New York, where he secured the greatest bargains this section has ever seen or heard of.

Why pay high prices for cheap goods, when you can buy the best goods at such low prices?

Come and see for yourself such a display of fine Dry Goods, fancy goods, silks, carpets, matting, clothing, shoes, groceries, etc., as was never shown in cainenesse.

I have the goods and mean to sell them. I pay for all my goods and get all the discounts, hence my low prices.
