

Graham Greene Studies

Call for Papers

The University of North Georgia Press, in conjunction with The Graham Greene Birthplace Trust, is issuing a Call for Papers for a peer-reviewed journal dedicated to the life and work of the English writer Graham Greene (1904–1991). University academics, independent researchers, and doctoral, post-graduate, graduate, and undergraduate students are invited to submit papers. Suggested topics include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Greene’s political and theological landscapes
- Greene’s depiction of women
- The short fiction
- The early novels
- The plays
- Greene’s travels on ‘the dangerous edge of things’
- Book and film reviews and other feature articles will also be considered.

Please submit all papers to <https://digitalcommons.northgeorgia.edu/ggs/>
All submissions must be original, unpublished work. Papers should be between 2,500 and 10,000 words. Citations must follow The Chicago Manual of Style, 17th edition documentation guidelines. All papers should be submitted double-spaced in Word document format using footnotes rather than endnotes for both notes and citation information; there is no need to include a References list as all citation information should be provided in footnotes. Readers and Graham Greene International Festival goers are encouraged to submit.

Deadline: March 31, 2022

Call for Papers issued by
Donna A. Gessell, University of North Georgia
Jon Wise, Graham Greene Birthplace Trust