If you’ve ever been in the north Georgia mountains at night, you probably have seen the phosphorescent lichen foxfire glowing on dead trees. In its staging of “Foxfire,” the College Theatre promises to radiate warmth and empathy for the memories and folkways cherished by Rabun County mountain people.

And former Gainesville Junior College students will get the chance to experience the radiance of southern Appalachia drama and sounds during a special GJC Alumni Association reception prior to the closing night performance of “Foxfire” on Saturday, May 18.

Open to anyone who attended the junior college, the GJC Alumni Association reception, scheduled from 6:00 to 7:45 p.m., will feature bluegrass entertainment presented by Bob Whelchel and David Merck of the Mossy Creek Revue.

Whelchel and Merck, a GJC alum, frequently appear throughout the area performing traditional and current popular bluegrass selections. The two-man group produces a variety of sounds. Whelchel “fiddles around” on the guitar, Dobro, mouth harp and five-string banjo. Merck “picks and grins” on the mandolin and guitar. Both musicians also exhibit their vocal talents during performances.

In addition to the entertainment, the reception will feature hors d’oeuvres, a cash bar, and a display of GJC memorabilia. The reception also will provide the opportunity to quickly handle several items of association business. During this first GJC Alumni Association meeting, members will adopt bylaws and elect officers.

As the reception winds down, alumni are invited to stay for the College Theatre production of “Foxfire.” Special GJC Alumni Association tickets are available at $5 each by calling Pat Hennen at 535-6249 for reservations.

“Foxfire,” the play, was inspired by the magazine started by Rabun Gap-Nacoochee School Teacher Elliot Wigginton to fire up his bored students’ interest in English. Using their richest resource — the area’s older residents, the students tape-recorded interviews of almost-forgotten memories, vanishing customs, and intriguing superstitions. These interviews were compiled into the Foxfire quarterly journal which later sparked a series of nine — to date — best-selling books.

Noted Broadway actor Hume Cronyn and British novelist Susan Cooper incorporated some of the original Foxfire material in their stage play. With a warm, simple elegance, the playwrights tell the story of an Appalachian widow, Annie Nations, who lives alone on the family’s farm, located high in the beautiful Blue Ridge Mountains.

Generations ago the farm was dubbed Stoney Lonesome, but the widow is not lonely for she keeps alive the memory and company of her husband, Hector Nations. Only Annie sees or hears Hector as they trade smart remarks and remember the past through several flashbacks. Cronyn and especially his talented wife, actress Jessica Tandy, received considerable praise for their touching portrayals of the couple.

Although Annie aptly handles herself and the farm, she’s being torn between staying on the old homestead and Hector’s memory or leaving to live in Florida with her son Dillard. As Dillard, Keith Caradine received good reviews as the guitar-picking bluegrass star who stops over at Stoney Lonesome during a concert tour at the fairgrounds in Hiawassee. The play features several original country/bluegrass songs that provide opportunities for some foot stomping.

The temptation to leave Stoney Lonesome is increased by a $100,000 offer from a tenacious real estate developer from Greenville. He wants to “improve” the land with suburban cabins and campsites.

Billed as a comedy-drama, “Foxfire” conjures up a mixture of laughter and tears. Particularly memorable is a flashback to Dillard’s birth when Hector puts an ax under his wife’s birthing table to “cut the pain.” Flashbacks focusing on stern mountain-style discipline and the loving ritual of “putting away” Hector’s body evoke sadder emotions.

Cronyn and Ms. Cooper have generously sprinkled “Foxfire” with tender — some quite amusing — moments of mountain lore, such as preparing a hog’s head for souse meat, planting by the signs, and pulling a tooth without the benefit of a dentist or pain killer.

“Foxfire,” with its allusions to familiar sites and folkways, should be especially heartwarming to area residents. It offers a chance to take a happy and touching journey to the mountains without leaving the theatre.

In addition to the special attendance by the GJC Alumni Association, “Foxfire” is scheduled to run for 11 performances beginning Wednesday, May 8. Curtain time is at 8 for each performance with a 2:30 p.m. matinee on Sunday, May 12. For ticket information and reservations, call the College Theatre office at 535-6206.

The formation of the Gainesville Junior College Alumni Association marks the beginning of a new era in the life of the College. Heretofore, the Alumni of G.J.C., scattered throughout the North Georgia area, had limited opportunity to continue their involvement with the College.

It is with great pleasure that the G.J.C. Foundation has agreed to sponsor and underwrite the activities of the Alumni Association. The Foundation is a non-profit organization dedicated to the advancement and financial well-being of the institution. Through our annual fund-raising drives, we secure funds that can be disbursed on a discretionary basis for activities at the College that cannot be supported by state monies. This includes scholarships for athletics, drama, student government, and academics. The Foundation also supports the College by funding continuing education opportunities for its faculty.

As Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Foundation, I look forward to working with the officers and directors of the Alumni Association as these two organizations become "Partners in Progress," working together to promote the continued growth of G.J.C. With our combined talents, enthusiasm, and interest in the College, we can truly make it the best little junior college in Georgia.

Roger Bower is President of the North Georgia Division of Great Southern Federal. He was elected to the Board of Trustees of the GJC Foundation in 1983 and is serving as Chairman in 1985.

ALUMNI STEERING COMMITTEE ENCOURAGES INVOLVEMENT

BY BILL STEPHENS

In his Pulitzer Prize-winning book, The Americans: The Democratic Experience, Daniel Boorstein writes that life is "more graspable" in small places. One could find few places better than Gainesville Junior College in which "to grasp."

Those of us who attended Gainesville Junior College can certainly understand the meaning behind Mr. Boorstein's statement. I have heard countless stories of how attending our alma mater made a difference in someone's life both personally and academically.

A few weeks ago I had the privilege of being interviewed by a reporter from the G.J.C. student newspaper for the purpose of being featured in the "Alumni Spotlight" column. One of the first questions asked was "what do you remember most about your time at the college?" My immediate answer was "the people" — an answer which I was told was the same as that of almost every other person who had been asked that question.

The fact that my answer echoed the sentiment of fellow alumni doesn't surprise me at all. The personal attention given by the instructors and staff of the college isn't news to anyone. I count myself among a number of students who probably would not have succeeded in college life, academically or otherwise, were it not for the special attention received at G.J.C.

On behalf of the Alumni Steering Committee, I would encourage you to become involved in what we intend to be a growing and thriving association. You can begin your involvement by attending the reception to be held in your honor on Saturday night, May 18th, at 6:00 p.m. in the Georgia Mountains Center. Following the reception, you might want to attend the College Theatre's special presentation of the play "Foxfire." Be sure and make your reservations early.

Over the next few months we invite your comments, suggestions, and assistance in the formation of your Alumni Association.

Bill Stephens has been serving as Chairman of the Alumni Association Steering Committee since December, 1984. He attended Gainesville Junior College 1974-76.
THESE ALUMNI HAVE BEEN WORKING FOR YOU

Over 40 GJC Alumni returned to campus on December 5, 1984, to begin making plans to form an alumni association at Gainesville Junior College.

Under the sponsorship of the Gainesville Junior College Foundation, the GJC Alumni Steering Committee was formed and 17 people volunteered to serve. Bill Stephens was elected chairman.

Subcommittees for bylaws, special events, newsletter, and area meetings were appointed. The recent activities of these committees are reported below:

The Bylaws Committee met several times, reviewed bylaws from other alumni associations, and formulated the proposed bylaws for the Gainesville Junior College Alumni Association that are printed in this issue of ANCHORS AWAY.

The Newsletter Committee made recommendations to the Alumni Office about what they thought GJC alums would like to see in the newsletter. They selected the logo and the name and assisted in gathering information. We hope you are as excited about the finished product as we are.

The Special Events Committee has worked very hard putting together our first official event to be held on Saturday, May 18, detailed in the newsletter. It will be a special night you will not want to miss. You can come to the reception only (no charge) or to both the reception and the play.

The Area Meetings Committee formulated a program which is now being presented to GJC Alumni in the surrounding counties and towns. This is designed to be a one-time effort in these areas to locate and inform alumni of the organizational efforts of the GJC Alumni Association and to give them general information about the College.

A big "THANK YOU" is extended to all of the members of the Steering Committee for their time and interest as the GJC Alumni Association kicks off.

GJC ALUMNI OFFICE OPEN TO SERVE YOU

BY PAT HENNEN
Director of Alumni Affairs

Gainesville Junior College has an Alumni Office and we are here to serve you. We want your suggestions and advice about what programs and activities you would like for us to sponsor. Let us know how we can help you and your children, friends, or employees.

Our major, long-term project is locating GJC Alumni. We have many names with many old addresses. These need to be updated so that they can receive the next issue of ANCHORS AWAY. Please call 535-6249 if you have any information about GJC alums.

The Alumni Office is located in the Advancement Office in the Administration Building (first door on the right when you enter the building). Please consider this a special invitation to each of you to come visit the GJC campus and Alumni Office.

GJC ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP FORM

Membership is open to all former students, not just graduates. There is no membership fee.

FROM THE PRESIDENT
J. FOSTER WATKINS

After almost two years as President of Gainesville Junior College, I now consider myself an alumnus of this outstanding institution. I have traveled extensively in Northeast Georgia since coming to GJC and have met a number of its fine alumni. I have been impressed repeatedly by the unusual commitment former GJC students have for this institution and the valuable role they feel their days on this campus played in their developing personal and professional lives. It is our desire that the formal development of an alumni program will allow us to capture and focus that commitment and interest in a unique way.

I have been warmed and encouraged by the response received from the several members of the advisory committee who have worked with Pat Hennen in initiating these efforts to establish an alumni thrust under the umbrella of the GJC Foundation. Pat Hennen herself is an excellent example of a GJC alumna who is making a significant contribution to this institution and indirectly to our students and our alumni in her efforts on behalf of the Foundation and, more recently, in her role in providing coordinating assistance as the Director of Alumni Affairs.

We solicit your individual cooperation and participation in these efforts and encourage your use of the alumni program as a means of broadening the base of information about the College — its current programs, its current needs, and particularly its efforts to serve the educational needs of emerging Northeast Georgia.

I look forward to coming to know more of you individually as I have an opportunity to participate in alumni activities. Please feel free to call upon me personally if I or the institution might be of assistance as your continue your personal and professional career development. Additionally, please accept a shared responsibility to let us know about things we are not doing or if some of our efforts need to be improved so that GJC may continue to be the "Jewel of the Junior College System in Georgia — if not the Nation."

ALUMNI ENCOURAGED TO USE GJC LIBRARY
BY BRENDA PURVIS

After graduating from Gainesville Junior College, alumni can continue to look forward to checking out books from the John Harrison Hosch Library/Learning Resource Center! All that is needed is an alumni card which is available from the GJC Advancement Office. Alumni card applications are also available at the circulation desk in the Library/LRC. You are encouraged to continue your life-long learning through the use of this substantial benefit.

Attractions in the LRC Spring Quarter include some interesting and unique exhibits. A current student, Scott Wiederholt, will display a "Wooden Water Fowl Exhibit" from April 1-14. These finely hand-carved wooden ducks are a pleasure to behold. The Society for Creative Anachronism will present an interesting exhibit April 15-28. GJC's International Students are planning a display for April 29-May 3. From May 4-12, the LRC will feature a Foxfire exhibit in conjunction with Eliot Wigginton's visit to campus and the opening of the College Theatre's production of Foxfire. The "Annual GJC Student Art Exhibit," the finale for Spring Quarter, will be presented May 13-June 5.

The hours during the quarter for the John Harrison Hosch Library/LRC are:

- Monday-Thursday: 7:30 a.m.-10:00 p.m.
- Friday: 7:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m.
- Saturday: 9:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m.
- Sunday: 2:00 p.m.-6:00 p.m.

Any variation in the schedule will be posted. You are cordially invited to visit the Library/Learning Resource Center.

Brenda Purvis is Director of the Library/Learning Resource Center and has been employed at GJC for 18 years.

Barbara Hermann is Associate Professor of Behavioral Sciences and has been at GJC since 1968.

Hello to all of you former GJC students. In another hundred years or so I guess that I'll be a former employee.

If you haven't been on the campus in quite a while, you might note some changes if you paid us a visit. The Student Activities Building, for example, is much larger and there is one whole building for the Library, only now it is called the Learning Resource Center. (Do any of you remember when the Library was just a small part of the Administration Building?) And the trees have grown, beautifully.

Some of us have changed, too. Dr. Bailey, Mr. Gnann, and I have lots of gray hair; Mr. McGlaun's older son is a senior in high school; Mr. Cabell walks around the halls at 75 mph rather than 100 mph. Ms. Gregory is still tall and Mr. Taylor still gives a lot of extra help to math students.

The main changes I see — other than I seem to get shorter and wider each year — reflect in the always-changing student body. The names and the individuals are different but each is still special; each still comes to us with his or her own needs, goals (or lack of them), and personality, And that's why I stay, really.

Sidney O. Smith, Jr. TO SPEAK AT HONOR'S DAY

Sidney O. Smith, Jr. of Gainesville will speak at the Gainesville Junior College Honor's Day Program on Monday, May 6, at 11:00 a.m. in the college gymnasium.

Mr. Smith is chairman of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia. He was appointed to the Board from the 9th Congressional District in January of 1980 and has served as chairman of the Board's Committee on Education. He is a member of the Atlanta law firm of Alston and Bird. Before joining that firm in 1974, he served as a judge in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia for almost 10 years.

The annual Honor's Program at GJC recognizes outstanding students through Activity/Service Awards and Academic Awards. The Clark-Theodore Award is presented to the most outstanding student at the College and the Most Outstanding Faculty Member for the year is recognized.

GJC Alumni are invited to attend a reception honoring the recipients of these awards beginning at 10:30 a.m. in front of the gymnasium.

Some facts about GJC

- Has increased unduplicated headcount enrollment in credit programs from 753 during the 1966-67 academic year to 2,334 during 1983-84.
- Thirty percent of the faculty hold earned doctorates.
- Approximately 90 percent of GJC graduates transfer to four-year colleges and universities.

ARTICLE III. OBJECTIVES

The specific objectives of the Association shall be to support Gainesville Junior College and the educational programs of the College designed for its students, former students, and potential students. Furthermore, it shall promote social interaction among its members and between its membership, the Foundation, and the public in general; promote the interests and welfare of the College; establish programs of student recruitment; foster student friendships during campus years; cooperate with college programs of vocational guidance and job placement; extend to the College the experience and skill of its former students in meeting institutional goals; assist the College in providing programs of continuing alumni education; and publicize the good name and prestige of the College.

ARTICLE IV. MEMBERSHIP AND VOTING PRIVILEGES

Section I. The membership of the Association shall consist of Active, Honorary, and Associate members:

(a) Active. The active membership shall consist of every person who shall have either graduated from or held the status of a matriculated student in good standing at the College for at least three full quarters. In addition, any student who received academic credit at Gainesville Junior College will be eligible upon their request.

(b) Honorary. The Executive Committee, by a 2/3 vote, may elect as honorary members such distinguished persons as they may deem proper.

(c) Associate. The associate membership shall consist of such current and former members of the staff and the faculty of the College not otherwise eligible for membership who may be nominated and elected to membership by the Executive Committee by a 2/3 vote.

Section 2. Only those persons classified as active members of the Gainesville Junior College Alumni Association shall be entitled to voting privileges and holding office in this Association.

ARTICLE V. OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION AND THEIR DUTIES

Section 1. Officers of the Association will be a duly elected President, Vice President and Secretary/Treasurer.

Section 2. Duties of the Officers

(a) The duties of the President of the Association shall be to preside over all meetings of the Association, Executive Committee, call special meetings, appoint committees and committee chairpersons, appoint committees and committee chairpersons. The President of the Association shall be an ex-officio member of the Executive Committee of the Gainesville Junior College Foundation, Inc.

(b) The duties of the Vice President of the Association shall be the same as the duties of the President when, for any reason, the Vice President must function in the absence of the President. The Vice President shall assist the President in the President's duties. The Vice President shall assume the Presidency in the event that office is vacated prior to the next election.

(c) The duties of the Secretary/Treasurer of the Association shall be to take and record the minutes of all Association meetings and make them available to all members, submitting one copy to the President of Gainesville Junior College and the Alumni Director. The Secretary/Treasurer shall be responsible for all correspondence relative to all Association affairs and shall assist the Alumni Director of Gainesville Junior College in the management and maintenance of the financial matters of the Association.

(d) Vacancies in the offices of Vice President or Secretary/Treasurer shall be filled by a majority vote of the Executive Committee.

Section 3. The Officers of the Association shall serve for a term of one year, subject to re-election, and shall take office on the first day of July following their election.

ARTICLE VI. COMMITTEES

Section 1. Executive Committee

(a) The Executive Committee shall be the governing body of the Association and shall oversee the activities of other committees as assigned by the President.

(b) Membership on the Executive Committee shall consist of the President, Vice President, Secretary/Treasurer, the immediate Past President, and all Committee Chairpersons as appointed by the President of the Association. Ex-officio members shall be the President of Gainesville Junior College and Alumni Director of Gainesville Junior College, and Chairman of the Gainesville Junior College Foundation.

ARTICLE VII. MEETINGS

There shall be an annual meeting of this Association on a date as determined by the Executive Committee. Other meetings of this Association may be called at the discretion of the Executive Committee. Notice of all meetings of this Association shall be mailed to the membership not later than ten (10) days before each meeting. When appropriate, meetings may be announced in the Alumni Newsletter.

ARTICLE VIII. PARLIAMENTARY AUTHORITY

Except as otherwise herein provided, the parliamentary authority to prevail shall be Roberts' Rules of Order, Revised.

ARTICLE IX. QUORUM

Fifteen members of this Association shall constitute a quorum at any regular or special meeting of this Association.

ARTICLE X. AMENDMENTS

These Bylaws or any portion thereof may be amended or repealed by a majority of the votes cast by the general membership present at any regular or special meeting of the Association, provided however, that such proposed amendment shall have been published at least five days prior to such meeting.

ARTICLE XI. INTERPRETATION OF BYLAWS

The Executive Committee of the Association shall have the authority to interpret and construe these bylaws.
Dear Fellow Alumni,

It is nice to have joined you as a fellow alumnus. As many of you know from personal experience, I enjoyed my years at GJC. Now I can say that I find life equally worthwhile as an alumnus. I do miss the people, but I am glad to leave all that paper shuffling to Dr. Watkins.

My year and a half of retirement has been spent as a student at Lanier Tech, as a free laborer on my son’s house, and as a farmer on my own little farm. I have been able to read many of those books and articles that I kept stacking away for lack of time. I am more up-to-date on what is going on in education and psychology than I was before retirement. Studying and learning is really fun when you do not have to do it under some sort of pressure.

My wish for you is that you too find life satisfying and that learning and looking forward to the days and years to come “accentuates the positive and eliminates the negative” for each of you.

Sincerely,
Hugh M. Mills, Jr.
President Emeritus
Gainesville Junior College

Tell us about it!

Have you:
- changed jobs?
- married?
- moved?
- continued college?
- added to your family?
- done something else that’s noteworthy?
