Dedicated to Gainesville Junior College
for outstanding service to Lanierland.
Gainesville Junior College Alma Mater

All hail to Gainesville College,
All hail to the blue and gold;
To thee our Alma Mater
We let our praises roll.

As Lakers may we e'er be true
To Those ideals we learned from you,
And as we go forth from your light,
Guide us ever in the path of right.

For Gainesville College proudly stand
Her sons and daughters through the land;
Their lives do honor to her name,
Their works add glory to her growing fame.

Oh, Alma Mater, thee we toast
As of our college years we boast;
Those years of striving to attain
The promise of our wisdom's precious gain.
THE CREST

The school crest represents many of the ideals that are a part of Gainesville College. A Polaris star is in the top, left section of the shield. This is the guiding star used by navigators for centuries, and the star is used because of its association with the sea. The wreath is composed of the laurel and oak leaves: the laurel for achievement and the oak for strength and determination.

The quill, pictured below the star, signifies literature, and the lyre is an ancient emblem for the arts.

The right side of the shield is composed of the scholastic torch with the flame forming the letter "G" for Gainesville. The name of the school's mascot, Lakers, is written across the torch on the ribbon.

Neptune's nautical crown appears as a crest. Neptune was King of the Sea.

This coat of arms has been surmounted on an anchor, which is a nautical symbol that depicts hope and steadfastness.

King Neptune is holding aloft the trident. Neptune, according to mythology, was not only head of the sea but had all the waters of the earth for his special problems.
HISTORY

Taking note of the University System Board of Regents' policies concerning the establishment of junior colleges, the people of Gainesville and Hall County determined to establish a community college as recommended by Governor Sanders' Commission on Education. Since an adequate site was required by the Regents, along with a million dollars for building purposes, the people of Gainesville and Hall County indebted themselves through a bond issue to make this facility possible.

The Regents chose a site near a proposed four-lane connector highway six miles southwest of the City of Gainesville. This site could serve Gainesville and Hall County while still being readily available to the rapidly expanding metropolitan Atlanta area.

Gainesville Junior College and its sister institution, Lanier Area Technical School, both received large amounts of State and Federal monies, thereby tripling the original local investment. In addition to bond monies, city, county, and state forces as well as private corporations have made substantial contributions in construction and other services.

Many citizens of this area contributed to this project. The work of the citizens was coordinated by an educational task force. This representative group has overcome tremendous difficulties in the preparation of this comprehensive educational complex.
PRESIDENT’S ADDRESS

DR. HUGH M. MILLS, JR.
President

Welcome to GJC! All of us here share with you the hope for a better quality life for you, your family, and your friends. We hope, as you face times of increasing change, that your judgment will become better and that you will make those choices which, in the long run, provide you and yours with a much better chance for being productive and happy. Your fellow taxpayers have provided this College in the hope that our whole society will benefit from the fact that you have had an opportunity to become better educated.

There are many reasons that people do not choose to continue their education in college. One reason is that learning is hard work. This has caused many people to refuse to attempt college. You and your schoolmates face another barrier to a college education. Transportation is becoming more and more expensive. Financing a college education is also keeping many from attempting to improve themselves educationally. These economic reasons are not new of course. For years the chief deterrent to attending college in this country was economic.

We, the administration, faculty, and staff at Gainesville Junior College, are glad that you are taking advantage of this opportunity to upgrade yourself. Tuition is relatively inexpensive since the taxpayers pay about 80% of the cost of your attending GJC. Other things in your life which would tempt you to discontinue your efforts to learn must be overcome by you and your families. If the present barriers to attending college were not present, you can rest assured there would be other difficulties which would tend to discourage those who study in colleges. You must make up your mind now that you will not be defeated in reaching your goals. Study often and well and make whatever sacrifices are necessary to overcome the economic barriers that tend to block you from your educational goals. You can count on us to help you at all times.

DR. JOEL H. PAUL
Dean of Academic Affairs

Students who attend GJC are expected to receive one of the best academic educations that two-year colleges can give. Our faculty will demand much of you but they also are willing to help you reach your academic goals. You will be expected to do your best in your work while you are with us. College work will be different, but it should be enjoyable for you. Establish some good study habits and your work will go much better. You will find the administrators, faculty and staff willing to help you at all times.
The Gainesville Junior College is one of the doors to a successful life. Every person on this campus is dedicated to giving you the opportunity to mature intellectually, emotionally, and personally. Your success comes from within yourself. The material things and the personnel at this college are only tools to help you grow. We cannot do it for you, but we can help you do it yourself.

My office is always open, especially at night. You are welcome to come in and discuss anything you desire. I look forward to seeing you, and I wish you every success in the years ahead.

What is college?? No doubt, college means many different things to different people, but most of us probably would include the opportunity to learn as a part of our definition. To some, that learning opportunity is considered only in relation to formal course offerings. To others, the concept of learning is enlarged to include opportunities to develop personal interests in a variety of areas such as music, drama, and sports; to develop leadership skills by participating in the various clubs and organizations; to develop social skills by informal association with students and faculty; to gain a better understanding of one's self by critically examining his own strengths and weaknesses; to improve decision-making skills as one struggles with decisions about formal education, career choices, and other concerns.

The potential areas of learning are many. It is primarily with these learning opportunities other than formal courses that the Student Affairs Program at GJC is concerned. Students are encouraged to avail themselves of all opportunities for learning.
Welcome to Gainesville Junior College

This official Student Handbook has been designed by the Student Government Association to facilitate your understanding of your rights and responsibilities as a student at the College and the organizational structure within which they work. You should be familiar with the contents of this Student Handbook as well as the contents of the Gainesville Junior College 1979-80 Bulletin.

If you have any questions, please feel free to drop by and discuss them with us. Our office, and every other office of the College, is here to serve you. All offices extend a cordial invitation to you to visit with them when you need information or assistance.

We extend to all of you a special welcome and hope that we can assist you in developing a feeling of genuine belonging to our College community.
As president of your Student Government, I would like to welcome you to Gainesville Junior College. College is a new experience for everyone. I suggest that you become involved in the activities that LACOSA will offer this year. INTRAMURALS AND RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

The Intramural program is open to all interested students and is organized to include some form of inter-team competition for those of a variety of skill abilities. The activities will include both team and individual sports. The program will provide opportunities for students to participate in a wide variety of activities. Its main focus is competition within the school with its primary purpose to provide fun and recreation for students and faculty. This program is in contrast to a program for the highly skilled which discourages the average players who are judged not sufficiently skilled to play. In intramurals the average as well as the highly skilled players are made to feel that they are wanted and are good enough to play. Each participant should play hard to win; however, good sportsmanship, courtesy, and the fun of playing will dominate the program. The activities scheduled for 1979-80 include:

BUDGET EXPLANATION

The GJC Student Activities Budget is constructed each year by LACOSA.

Organizations and departments of college operations submit to the council the amount of money they will need to operate on with an explanation of expenditures. The council takes in consideration all written requests for funds and appropriates monies proportionally. The budget is then approved by the College President, then the Board of Regents.

The proposed Student Activities Budget includes the balance from the previous year, the student activity fees paid each quarter and the generated funds that the different groups and programs accumulate throughout the year. According to this projection, the following allocations have been made to the different areas.

STUDENT SERVICES

LIBRARY

PURPOSE:

The purpose of the John Harrison Hosch Library is to provide a live growing collection of books, journals, and other instructional materials that support the academic program of the college. The library encourages students to form the lifetime habit of reading much and reading well.

HOURS:

During the quarter the library is open:

Monday—Thursday 7:30 a.m. - 10:00 p.m.
Friday — 7:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Presently the library is not open on Saturday or Sunday. Any change of scheduled hours will be posted.

SERVICES:

Instruction in library resources and their effective use is given to individuals and class groups.

In addition to books and periodicals, the library subscribes to newspapers from representative areas of the world. Records, slides, tapes, framed art reproductions, films, filmstrips, microfilm, microfiche, maps, and charts extend the horizon of learning for Gainesville Junior College students.

The library provides a student library handbook for each student at the beginning of the Fall Quarter. These may be obtained at the circulation desk throughout the year. A Xerox 3100 copier is available near the circulation desk for copying needed materials at ten cents per copy. Three microfilm reader/printers are available for printing out copies of microfilm and fiche at fifteen cents per copy.

The card catalog is the index to the library collection. To make it easier to locate needed materials, the library's catalog is divided into separate units. Author and title cards are filed in one unit, and the subject cards are filed in another unit.

Use of library materials is for all GJC students. These materials should be kept in the best condition possible. Present and future students may be denied use of materials which are mutilated or stolen. It is also important that students be aware of the severe penalties which may be imposed by the state for theft or mutilation of library materials. For details please see the Student Conduct Code.

College students are encouraged to use the library collection independently; however, if you need help the library staff is available at all times to assist you. A professional librarian is available in the reference area most of the time the library is open. Please check at the reference desk (or at the circulation desk) for assistance and information about using library resources. Do not hesitate to ask for help.
